

FULLCIRCLE
FINANCIAL

Good news is good news again.

Hello Rebecca,

For the past year, economically speaking, good news often quickly turned into bad news.

A strong job market and consumer spending fueled rapid-rise inflation, which set off alarm bells for the Bank of Canada, which in turn ratcheted up interest rates to stem inflation's tide. Many felt the pain of that in rising mortgage payments and growing credit card bills. Then talk about a potential recession grew.

But now, more recent reports like the New York Times article below, are now suggesting that despite all the previous good news gone bad, America's economy continues to show resiliency and is capable of enduring these rapidly changing conditions.

Instead of a recession, talk has turned to a "soft landing."

That's good news indeed, and worth passing along.

What does this mean for your financial strategy? How have the past few years changed your spending and budgeting? Let's talk about it and position you to face the exciting months ahead. Give these articles a read and get in touch with any questions.

Kevin Giffin

Certified Financial Planner

Full Circle Financial

Thoughtful Wealth Management Starts with a Conversation

Office : \(416\) 341-7901

Cellular : \(416\) 708 - 6229

kgiffin@fullcirclefinancial.ca

www.fullcirclefinancial.ca/

Is Good News Finally Good News Again?

Aug. 3, 2023

Economists had been wary of strong economic data, worried that it meant inflation might stay...

Read more →

Case of the missing recession and other misunderstood investing trends

Aug. 3, 2023

We're in the depths of summer and the business news cycle is slow. It's a good time to step back...

Read more →

How to live with stock market uncertainty

Aug. 8, 2023

If you're not confused by this topsy-turvy stock market, you should be. Global stocks have defied...

Read more →

How Investors Are Messing Up Right Now, According to Finance Pros

Aug. 3, 2023

From playing it too safe to piling into overpriced stocks, investors are falling into some...

Read more →

Stocks Have Had a Great Year. Cue the September Effect.

Aug. 4, 2023

September is traditionally the weakest month for U.S. stocks. This year, investors say the...

Read more →

How Your Money Mindset Could Be Leading To Burnout At Work

Aug. 9, 2023

F Do you have difficulty slowing down? Do you have a hard time feeling joy when you reach your...

Read more →

54 Great Oak Drive - Toronto, Ontario - M9A 1N2

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, unsubscribe here.