Hey, You Don't Need to Know It All

Hello Rebecca,

As we end the first full workweek of 2025, there's a lot of buzz about what the year might hold. It's both exciting and, understandably, a bit anxiety-inducing. Imagine if we could only glimpse into the future to see what lies ahead!

Unfortunately, there's no crystal ball or magical AI prompt (yet) to predict what awaits in 2025. But here's the good news: you don't have to have it all figured out today. Part of the beauty of life is in choosing how you want to live it.

So, what can help lift the weight of the year ahead from off your shoulders? Let's instead focus on the opportunities directly in front of you today and set some intentions for the direction you want 2025 to take. While we can't predict the future, I can help you purposely strategize for a range of possibilities and make informed decisions to protect and pursue your dreams.

With that in mind, here are some articles curated from the financial news this week for you to consider. As always, feel free to reach out whenever you need guidance. Enjoy!
