

FULLCIRCLE
FINANCIAL

A do-nothing Labour Day

Hello Rebecca,

Labor Day has historically been about one thing: Taking time to rest from your work.

But it can also be an opportunity to reflect on your career and where you see it headed, along with your earnings and potential. Across social media this week, conversation revolved around “quiet quitting,” a trend where workers only do the exact requirements of their job —and nothing more.

It certainly has a lot of people talking.

Regardless of where you stand on the issue, this Labour Day holiday, it’s perfectly ok to do nothing, especially if it’s the type of nothing that the New York Times article below discusses.

Check it out, along with these other useful articles, and reach out if you have any questions or requests regarding your financial strategy. As always, I’m here to help you know when to act and when further action isn’t necessary — whatever keeps you on the path to pursuing your long-term goals and vision.

Enjoy! And have a happy and restful Labour Day.

Kevin Giffin

Certified Financial Planner

Full Circle Financial

Thoughtful Wealth Management Starts with a Conversation

Office : \(416\) 341-7901341-7901)

Cellular : \(416\) 708 - 6229708-6229)

kgiffin@fullcirclefinancial.ca

www.fullcirclefinancial.ca/

To Make Money in the Stock Market, Do Nothing

Aug. 27, 2022

The bear market endures, yet the S&P 500 index rose more than 17 percent from mid-June to mid-...

Read more →

Nine strategies for using a First Home Savings Account

Aug. 26, 2022

You may recall that the 2022 federal budget introduced a new type of registered savings plan,...

Read more →

The Backlash Against Quiet Quitting Is Getting Loud

Aug. 25, 2022

First came the viral phenomenon. Now critics are taking to task those who advocate for coasting...

Five investing principles that should always apply no matter the season

Aug. 26, 2022

These should apply in both bear market and bull markets to get your brain in shape for the...

Read more →

When it comes to saving for retirement, better late than never

Aug. 29, 2022

THE GLOBE
AND MAIL

Whether you're starting late or starting over, right now is still a great time to begin working...

Read more →

Read more →

The Ultimate End-of-Summer Road Trip Playlist, According to WSJ Readers

Aug. 31, 2022

WSJ

Looking for a summer's-end soundtrack? The WSJ community crowdsourced a freewheeling playlist,...

Read more →

54 Great Oak Drive - Toronto, Ontario - M9A 1N2

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, unsubscribe here.