

FULLCIRCLE
FINANCIAL

What happens next?

Hello Rebecca,

The first quarter of 2023 has been particularly significant, in many areas. From the banking crisis brought on by the collapse of SVB, market volatility, and to new technology like A.I. tools becoming a part of daily conversation. It feels like the world is changing fast.

It's times like this when many people are tempted to predict what will happen next. That's why the Globe and Mail article on March Madness caught my eye.

It deals with the challenges of forecasting. Markets move quickly and are often volatile, but storms pass. For long-term investors, staying the course by focusing on long-term goals and a diversified strategy means you don't have to try and guess what happens next.

One thing we do know is that considering changes proposed in last week's federal budget, there are some financial planning changes in the works that we can take advantage of.

It doesn't mean you won't have questions or concerns, though. That's why I'm here. Please feel free to reach out with any comments on the articles or questions about the strategy we've built.

Kevin Giffin

Certified Financial Planner

Full Circle Financial

Thoughtful Wealth Management Starts with a Conversation

Office : \(416\) 341-7901341-7901)

Cellular : \(416\) 708 - 6229708-6229)

kgiffin@fullcirclefinancial.ca

www.fullcirclefinancial.ca/

Budget's changes to 3 registered savings plans could affect how you invest this year and beyond

March 30, 2023

Here's what you need to know about budget changes that may affect your investment strategies.

Read more →

What can investors learn from March Madness?

April 3, 2023

You would think that forecasts from basketball fans would be much less accurate than those coming...

Read more →

Markets in Q1: Moving fast and breaking things

March 31, 2023

From a red-hot January as China cast off COVID curbs to February's flop when interest rates...

Read more →

Why 'Should' Is Not Good For You

March 30, 2023

If your brain cascades into a series of "I shoulds," leaving you too overwhelmed to initiate any...

Read more →

Would Life Be Better if You Worked Less?

April 3, 2023

From part-time hours to four-day workweeks, people experiment with living more.

Read more →

The First Home Savings Account just launched: Who should have one, who offers them and key rules

April 4, 2023

If you're serious about buying a first home, or you're the parent/grandparent of someone in this...

Read more →

54 Great Oak Drive - Toronto, Ontario - M9A 1N2

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, unsubscribe here.