The maps that guide us

Hello Rebecca,

Do you remember paper maps? The kind you'd keep folded up in your glove compartment or bag. Navigation has changed with the advent of smartphones, but the value of maps to guide us as we move through the world has remained constant.

There are maps that help get us from point A to point B physically and also mentally. You may follow a mental map to track your idea of progress as you move through your career and build your network of relationships. We have one for your financial strategy as we work towards achieving your goals.

Then there are times of great change, when our maps are disrupted, like with covid-19, inflation, market volatility, or a recession. At those times, it's worth remembering that maps are flexible; there is always more than one way to get from place to place. I'm here to help you navigate through change and help you stay on track.

Enjoy the articles, and as always, don't hesitate to reach out with any questions or comments.
